The primary function of the Leigh H. Taylor Law Library is to provide support for the study and research activities of the Southwestern legal community. Library rules and regulations are few and have been designed to make resources available on an equitable basis. The library functions best if each patron is considerate of others at all times when using the library. As such, library disturbances are not permitted (such as answering or other use of cell phones, or loud vocal exchanges) and are grounds for immediate removal from the library. . Users must dispose of all trash and leave the area clean for the next person. Personal belongings and laptop computers should not be left unattended in the library. Children under the age of 14 may not be left unattended in the library.
