Students have the right to cancel their enrollment at Southwestern Law School without any penalty or obligations and obtain a full refund of institutional charges paid through attendance at the first class session or the seventh day after signing the Enrollment Agreement, whichever is later (the "Cancellation Period").

To cancel, an incoming student who has not previously attended Southwestern must notify the Admissions Office (admissions@swlaw.edu) in writing indicating that the student no longer wishes to attend Southwestern or be bound by the Enrollment Agreement.

An incoming student who cancels their enrollment within the defined Cancellation Period is entitled to a full refund of institutional charges, less a reasonable seat deposit or application fee not to exceed $250.

A continuing student signing a new or amended Enrollment Agreement who wishes to cancel must notify the Student Services Office (studentservices@swlaw.edu) in writing, indicating that the student no longer wishes to attend Southwestern or be bound by the Enrollment Agreement.

A continuing student who cancels their enrollment within the defined Cancellation Period is entitled to a full refund of institutional charges for the Current Term specified in the then current Enrollment Agreement.

Southwestern will process the refund within 45 business days of receiving the cancellation notice.
